

MDGs: Donors hold key to HIV-free generation

Plus News

Global HIV/AIDS news and analysis

NEW YORK, 23 September 2010

The United Nations officials have expressed confidence in attaining an HIV free generation by 2015. However they emphasized the need for fully funded HIV prevention and treatment programs in the realization of this goal.

The officials added that good will, positive interventions and commitments from countries would amount to little- if funding was inadequate.

Link: <http://www.plusnews.org/Report.aspx?ReportId=90558>